To Whom It May Concern:

United Doormakers have been our service provider for 2.5 years, in that time I have received professional and accurate inspections complete with detail reports for all our 50 buildings managed by Melbourne Inner City Management.

The service department delivers the type of customer service that makes every facilities managers job just that little easier, all our requirements are met in the most friendly and professional manner.

Having professional people as our Specialist Maintenance Contractor gives us the confidence, the job is being done in the most effective and cost efficient way.

To add to this, United Doormakers have supported our company when difficult problems arise, this support was in the form of expert advice pertaining to mandatory and Australian Standards requirements.

With this in mind, our Body Corporate department feels confident that only the best service is delivered.

I therefore would highly recommend United Doormaker to any company requiring a Specialist Maintenance Contractor for the service of fire doors and manufacture of fire doors.

Yours truly,
